Escalator Economics

It's possible that the General Motors up-and-down wage agreement may become as important a milestone in progress toward better understanding of economic realities as Henry Ford's high-wage policy of Model-T days. Both aim at the same thing—a more secure market for the output of mass-production industries.

Now that G. M. has shown what is possible under the agreement, the public will be more interested in it. The corporation has cut wage scales, according to the formula for gearing wage scales to the cost of living. At the same time, the corporation has announced a cut in the price of its products. This is justified, it explains, by prospective savings in wage payments and by the lower cost of certain materials.

In other words, the agreement makes it possible to stabilize wage scales in relation to economic realities. The goal of collective bargaining thus becomes a proper ratio to realities, instead of an ever-increasing wage scale unrelated to realities. While the ratio itself would be subject to change, experience under it would be likely to modify demands in periods of falling prices in exchange for guaranteed increases in periods of rising prices.

When the G. M. agreement was made, it was called a significant theory. It now has progressed into a significant practice. It may not be the ultimate answer to management-labor problems, but it is the most hopeful answer proposed in recent years.

Are You 'A Special Interest'?

In Mr. Truman's political language, "special interests" are people who differ with him. In some cases, he calls them by a nastier name which is not used in newspapers.

This is old stuff in politics. Mr. Roosevelt had nasty names for people who differed with him. So did Mr. Hoover, Mr. Coolidge, Mr. Harding and all previous presidents.

It's up to the people to decide what these names mean—whether they should be shrugged off or applied steaming hot, like mustard plasters.

Take "special interests."

An American Citizen—In Mr. Truman's vocabulary is guilty of being a member of a "special interest" if he questions the wisdom of throwing out the Taft-Hartley act and going back to the one-sided Wagner act.

He is guilty if he questions the wisdom of piling billions of new taxes on billions of old taxes to give the federal government the lion's share of public income.

He is guilty if he doubts the good faith of politicians who itch to create an all-out welfare state, to give Washington more police power over economic matters and to rush into a vast program of universal military service.

He is on the Truman administration's black list if he dares to question proposals to put the federal government into the electric power and steel business in competition with its own citizens; if he wonders whether his government knows all and sees all in the argument over rent control.

Mr. Truman is so sure that he alone is right on these and other issues that he threatens to get on a train and fight "special interests" from the observation platform. Perhaps he will.

If he did, it would serve notice on congress that he is still intolerant of congressional deliberation. It would serve notice on all voters that he is purged-minded and wants to get rid of his opposition. It would be a vivid demonstration of a state of mind that has been coming over Mr. Truman by leaps and bounds since he won the election last November as the first minority president in more than a third of a century. He now thinks that he alone knows all the answers.

There are all kinds of "special interests" in the United States. Mr. Truman has surrounded himself with some of them. These are good "special interests" and bad ones—not all the good ones are on the same side in politics.

What Mr. Truman might discover if he took another train ride is that millions of his fellow countrymen belong to a special kind of "special interest" group. The as they're grinding is an old one—the right of free people to carry on free discussion for the purpose of keeping authoritarian government at arm's length in the United States. And politicians to the contrary notwithstanding, they'll keep right on grinding for all they're worth, whether it sets Mr. Truman's teeth on edge or not.

Little Fellows In The Middle

The report that Russia has moved additional troops to Norway's Arctic border is a one-sentence lesson in international power politics.

As Walter Lippmann has been saying in his columns on the pending security pact for North Atlantic countries, the main thing is to understand what Russia's immediate neighbors are up against.

They are little fellows in the middle of a struggle between major powers. Anything which adds to their hazard is a diplomatic fumble. Norway has no security except what can be provided for it by the major powers. The Red army already is on its borders. The Norwegians, when they think about security, are looking down the muzzle of a potential invader's gun. The United States, which wants Norway to join the North Atlantic alliance, must expect the Norwegians to demand tangible protection against a tangible danger.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, February 27

SUNDAY'S horoscope, while highlighting conflicting aspects for the more sedate and serious commitments of the day, leaves little sign of contradiction for all sorts of romantic and thrilling adventures. Possibly engagements, even elopements, sudden culminations in which unusual friendships rise to dramatic heights. Even in this, be prepared for some sort of resistance from elders, the church, ill health or other opposition.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of surprising developments, in which the strange, unforeseen and unpredictable may materialize, and this with sensational angles, perhaps with public attention or celebration. While there may be opposition, resistance, delay or want of cooperation from elders, in the end a brilliant crisis may give exceptional joy and festivities in purely personal, in relation to romantic experiences.

A child born on this day, although likely to contact delays, conflicts, or even lowered vitality, may attain status and enjoy a thrilling and romantic personal career.

For Monday, February 28

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of high excitement and adventure, in which affairs move to surprising culminations and strenuous production, whether this be in promotion or exploitation of major plans or desires or in the realm of the purely personal or romantic. Concentrated efforts in putting over important objectives, impressive executive ability, or fresh techniques, could accelerate the prestige and standing.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may anticipate a lively, strenuous and enterprising day in which all forms of cherished desires and objectives may put over with force, nerve and much personal gratification. Capital and funds are available for exploitation and expansion, with romantic aspects of thrilling or dramatic fervor.

A child born on this day will possess a splendid degree of creative skill and ingenuity, with practical ability and prestige to assure a high spot of popularity and recognition.

"Genuine price reductions," says Labor Secretary Tobin, "are less than a casual reading of newspaper advertising or a passing glance at window displays would lead us to believe."

Well, we've read the ads carefully, not casually. We've stopped and studied the displays, and prices. We've gone in and shopped and counted our money. There was more money than there would have been a few months ago after the same purchases. Maybe we don't understand economics, Mr. Secretary, but we just can't help it.

Mildred Gillett's wartime "Aye, Sir!" on trial for treason, has been described by her counsel as the "dope" of one of her former college professors. "We would if we could," said the more accurate description.

INCOME RETURNS TO STARS HIGH

Movie Stars, Actresses Are Listed Among Biggest Refund Benefactors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—The Curtis-Wright Corporation and Movie Producer Darryl F. Zanuck received the biggest of 32,000-000 corporate and individual tax refunds during the last fiscal year.

The Curtis-Wright rebate amounted to $35,123,401 on excess profits taxes previously paid. Zanuck's refund on income taxes was $174,973, the same amount refunded to Virginia Zanuck his wife.

In all, the Internal Revenue bureau reported to the House Expenditures committee today, $2,207,540-000 was refunded or credited on future tax bills during the fiscal year, which ended last June 30. Only the names of those who received $500 or more were listed in the bulky report.

The total includes $56,530,924 in interest at the rate of six per cent on overpayments. Unless Congress cuts the rate treasury experts predicted, the interest bill on 1949 refunds will be about $83,000,000.

The report did not say whether the overpayments were for taxes paid during the fiscal year or during previous years or whether the various refunds were made in cash or credited against future taxes.

While the big corporations received the largest refunds, the list was studded with the names of persons prominent in the fields of politics, literature and entertainment. The refunds were comparatively small.

Farmer's Purchasing Power Must Be Maintained, Claim

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26—(INS)—The farmer's purchasing power must be maintained for the sake of the nation's economy, even though most farmers, because of inefficient operations, don't deserve such help.

That statement was made by C. C. Brownfield, economist, columnist and agricultural economics expert, at a luncheon before the University of Cincinnati business and professional men's group, Friday night.

Brownfield declared that the American farmer is potentially able to produce food or cotton more cheaply than anywhere else in the world but that he "actually has almost the world's highest production costs."

Declaring that he is "an enemy of parties, support prices and agricultural subsidies," Brownfield explained:

"We cannot do away with these things overnight for the simple reason that the purchasing power represented by agriculture is of vital and fundamental importance to the whole economic structure of the nation."

"If, over night, the majority of farmers found themselves unable to go to town and buy commodities manufactured by industry, the result would be disastrous and might precipitate us all into a severe depression."

Brownfield called for a higher level of agricultural efficiency and productivity and said that "only about 10 percent of the American farmers can properly be called good and productive operators."

He said that any modification of the farm subsidy program will have to be brought about gradually but declared that "the ultimate answer and perhaps the only final one lies in a better agriculture."

N. B. O. P. Will Ballot On Officers In May

The National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery, which claims a membership of over 28,000 in America's ceramic industry, today announced 59 candidates for nine national officers in the A. F. L. union.

The field was reduced from 211 by withdrawals. The primary will be held in March, the election in May and officers will be installed at the annual convention in July at Atlantic City.

James M. Duffy, president since 1927, is opposed by Larry Finlay, Norman Whipple and Harry S. Johnson, all of East Liverpool.

Finlay and Whipple have led a year-long court fight against salaries paid Duffy and Secretary-Treasurer Charles F. Jordan of Sebring.

Five oppose Jordan. They are Ed J. Jones of Sebring, Lawrence F. Parker of Huntington Park, Calif., George Saleberry of Wellsville and Lewis Sullivan and P. K. Calhoun of East Liverpool.

Two new officers will be named, as George H. Newborn of Trenton, N. J., fifth vice president, died in December, and George Turner of East Liverpool declined nomination for a new term as sixth vice president.

Suspect Canaries In Malaria Spread

ALLIANCE, Feb. 26—Pet canaries were said today to play a major role in the spread of malaria in the United States.

A Mount Union college professor stated that after an eight-weeks study he found the domesticated canary to be one of the best carriers for malaria virus.

Dr. Arne V. Hunningen, a professor of biology, examined the effects of the disease on wild and domesticated birds while working with the division of tropical medicine, a unit of the U.S. Public Health department operating out of Columbia.

Dr. Hunningen said that no definite conclusions could be made from his study but that progress has been made pointing the way to further experimentation.

The professor reported that despite the fact malaria practically had been wiped out in most of the U.S., it remained a problem to Negro cotton pickers in the South.

ATTENDANCE REPORT

Feb. 20 attendance report of the Four Township Sunday School association is as follows:

Battles To Decide NEO District Champions Open Monday

Youngstown Chaney Meets Canton McKinley On First Evening's Go At Fieldhouse

Warfare to determine the two NEO district champions in Class A basketball opens at Youngstown South fieldhouse at 8 p. m. Monday. Booked in the first night's A battling are Youngstown Chaney, a seeded entry, and always-dangerous Canton McKinley.

The first evening of A competition features three games, with one Class B battle scheduled at 6 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday Class B takes over at the fieldhouse. A resuming play on Saturday.

Salem's Quakers, scheduled to tangle with the East Palestine Bulldogs, are idle until next Saturday. The game between the Columbiana-county rivals is set for 8 p. m.

The Chaney-McKinley feature is an oddity on the first night's card, for many observers had it figured that McKinley and Chaney would both be "seeded" into separate brackets, thus eliminating the possibility of a clash early in competition.

The game is unquestionably one of the outstanding on the first round slate and should provide the opening night with a near-capacity crowd.

Other games scheduled Monday include Youngstown South against Niles at 7, and Canton Timken against Youngstown South at 9. The final game, too, should be a corker and the appearance of South is expected to swell the attendance.

Niles figures a fairly easy choice over Youngstown North in the Class A opener.

Nearly all of the county's seven major schools get into tournament action this week. Columbiana, Leontine, entering the B event at Youngstown and East Liverpool playing in the A sectional at East Liverpool.

Lisbon, among the strongest teams in this area, has a tough opener the same evening as Salem, meeting Warren's Black Panthers at 9 p. m. Warren, freshly improved of late, figures to give Lisbon plenty of difficulty. The Panthers were edged out by a potent Massillon five in play last night.

Salem, should it get by East Palestine in the first game, would be pitted against the Warren-Lisbon winner in a game at 8:30 p. m. on Wednesday, March 2.

On Tuesday evening, March 1, the games scheduled pit Louisville against Campbell Memorial at 6:30 Alliance against Canton Lehman at 7:45, and Canton Central, a seeded outfit, against Youngstown Ursuline at 9. Central and Ursuline have played before this year, Central winning by three points.

The schedule next Saturday also includes three afternoon games, an unusual angle this year. Fitch meeting seeded Girard at noon, Minerva taking on Boardman at 1:15 and Youngstown Woodrow Wilson

TRIBE ASSORTMENT LEAVES FOR CAMP; MORE SIGNED UP

Bearden, Gordon, Lemon Report Monday and Will Sign, Veeck Hopes

CLEVELAND, Feb. 26 (AP)—Cleveland Indian President Bill Veeck shepherded an assorted group of players and coaches today as the World Champions headed west for their Tucson, Ariz., training base.

Included were Alie Clark, Hank Edwards, Sam Zoladak, Mickey Vernon, Coaches Mel Harder and George Susse, and batting practice catcher Bill Lobe. They will arrive in Chicago early in the evening where Veeck will leave the group for other business.

The squad will be joined there by Manager Lou Boudreau, Larry Doby, Bob Kennedy, Lyman Linder, Fred Marsh, Milt Neilsen, Hal Peck, Dick Rose, Milt Stockhausen, Mike Tresh, Bobby Wilson, and Oscar Melillo.

Melillo, new manager of the Indians' Dayton, O. farm club, later will go to the Marianna, Fla., site of farm operations.

Arrival at Tucson is scheduled for 7 a. m. Monday. Trainer Lefty Weisman, Coach Steve O'Neill and Groundkeepers Emil and Marshall Bossard will form a greeting party.

The holdout menace to training was calmed to a mild disturbance yesterday when First Baseman Vernon signed a contract and Gene Bearden, Jim Hegan, and Clark agreed to terms by telephone.

Bearden assured Veeck he would report to Tucson. He said erstwhile holdout Bob Lemon, the Tribe's other 26-game winner, would be there too. Second Baseman Joe Gordon, another real-estate, is already at Tucson, and Veeck said he hoped to have all three sign there on Monday or Tuesday.

That leaves Johnny Berardino, Roberto Avila, Herman Reich, and Hank Ruskowski still outside the fold. The Indian front office said it knows nothing about their plans.

ILLINI COULD BE IN FOR TIE AFTER SATURDAY BATTLES

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP)—Illinois, aiming for a conference team scoring record as well as the basketball championship, can clinch at least a share of the Big Nine crown tonight with an assist from Purdue.

The Illini, averaging 63 points per game in eight wins and one loss, invade Chicago stadium to meet Northwestern (2-9). Purdue (6-5) the only team to defeat Illinois, travels to Minnesota (8-2).

Should the Bollweavers upset the Gophers—and the Illini defeat Northwestern as expected—Illinois would be assured of at least a co-championship. Coach Harry Combes' outfit could still tie Minnesota for first—if the Gophers win their March 1 finale with Wisconsin—although losing its next two games, against Indiana and Michigan.

Illinois is within shooting distance of the conference scoring mark of 755 points in 12 games by the Illini White Kids in 1943. With three games to go, Illinois has collected 558, and need to average 66 until the win.

Other games tonight send Indiana (3-3) to Iowa (2-7) and Michigan (6-3) to Ohio State (5-6).

The 12-game conference race concludes a week from tonight with the exception of Illinois' date at Michigan March 7.

Illinois, accelerated by a well-balanced attack, may find Northwestern a bit stubborn. Despite a poor record, the Wildcats are used to the Chicago stadium court and are anxious to spring an upset. They hit their peak of the season at the stadium a week ago when they trimmed highly-rated Ohio State 62-50.

LOUIS RECEIVES NEW OFFER FROM PHILADELPHIAN

Would Net Joe $300,000 Plus Nearly Half of Video Receipts

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—The big question about Joe Louis now is not whether he will defend his heavyweight championship again but where and against whom.

On the heels of two fabulous offers to fight in Chicago and Cincinnati, the champion received a third yesterday to put his crown on the line in Philadelphia.

Frank Palumbo, Philadelphia night club owner and fight manager, offered the Brown Bomber $300,000 plus 47 1/2% of all television and radio receipts to meet Lee Savold this summer.

Palumbo, who gave Louis 24 hours to grab the offer, intimated he could stage the bout in municipal stadium, which seats 110,000 for boxing; Franklin Field, which accommodates 80,000 or less, commends Shibe park.

There was no immediate word on the latest turn from Louis, who is staging a series of exhibitions in the Caribbean.

The Philadelphia, who is co-manager of Lightweight Champion Ike Williams, gave the champion plenty of alternatives.

Louis could take 47 1/2% per cent of the gate if it was greater than the $300,000 flat offer. He could pick his own date for the bout, so long as it's this summer. And he could make a counter offer.

Savold's manager, J. J. Daily, said he would jump at the deal regardless of his own and his fighter's offer. "All I'm interested in is getting Savold in the same ring with Louis."

In the past two months promoters have offered Louis $400,000 to defend his title in Chicago and Cincinnati.

Sam Becker, wealthy Cincinnati manufacturer and promoter, said he would give the champion $400,000 to meet the winner of the Monday night fight between Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim.

Louis himself has listed Charles and Savold as the only possibilities for a summer title foe.

GLENN TEAL TOPS FIELD IN GOLF'S RIO GRANDE AFFAIR

Late Flare-Up Reported As Metz Lets Go With News To Sports Editor

HARLINGEN, Tex., Feb. 26 (AP)—Glenn Teal, a comparative youngster along golf's tournament trail, led the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open into its third round today but he had to share the spotlight with the game's newest flare-up.

The 29-year-old Teal, playing out of Jacksonville, Fla., on his third tour, topped 60 other shot makers moving into the final 36 holes of the tournament with a 36-hole total of 131, a one-stroke margin over the field.

George Schneller, manager of the PGA tournament bureau, prepared a report on the PGA's executive committee that may result in disciplinary action against veteran Professional Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va.

The charge is that Metz gave inaccurate information to a sports writer who wrote a column in which he said discussions raged within the ranks of golf and between golf and the tournament sponsors.

Metz checked out of his hotel yesterday afternoon and apparently departed for his home. He had shot 143 for the first 36 holes of the tournament and would have had little chance at the money in the final 36 scheduled today and tomorrow.

Dick Peebles, San Antonio Express sports editor, said in his column that there was dissatisfaction among the tournament sponsors here over American golfers playing in a tournament in Mexico the first part of this week, thus causing a golf clinic scheduled for Wednesday to be postponed to Saturday; that Houston open sponsors had wanted the pros to play the final round last Monday instead of jamming two rounds into Sunday when an earlier round was rained out, and that there were other points of contention.

Schneller, Austin Anson, manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers, the tournament sponsors, and several of the golfers, including Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who played in Mexico, and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., denied all the assertions. Peebles gave Metz as the source of his information.

State's Colleges Have Bad Evening

By The Associated Press

Ohio college basketball teams lost two out of three games to out of state invaders last night. Four other games were on the night's program.

Loyola of Chicago—due to meet Bowling Green tonight—defeated John Carroll in Cleveland 57 to 50. It was one game of a double header in Cleveland arena. In the other, City College of New York defeated Baldwin Wallace 62 to 57.

The victory in interstate play went to Bluffton, which won over Indiana Tech of Ft. Wayne, Ind., 62 to 60.

In two scheduled Ohio conference games, Kenyon defeated Ohio Northern 84 to 59, and Marietta downed Wittenberg 80 to 60.

Elsewhere, Western Reserve defeated Case 81 to 49—avenging a previous defeat by Case, and Rio Grande defeated Cincinnati Bible seminary 82 to 56.

Loyola's victory over Carroll was their 26th in 24 starts. Center Bob Roper of the losers missed 10 or 11 foul chances.

Marietta relied in the final period to defeat Wittenberg, at Marietta. Marietta led 31 to 27 at half time after overcoming a Wittenberg 19-16 lead at the end of the first quarter. The score was tied at 48-48 at the end of the third period. The Lutherans' ace scorer, Ed Moskowsky, won scoring honors with 22 points.

ferred to the Cherche-Midi military prison in Paris.

The ministry of interior also said that 11 other men arrested yesterday on similar charges were released this morning but will remain under police surveillance.

A ministry of interior spokesman said the men handed over to military authorities today were:

Robert Friedland, reporter for the leftist weekly "Regade," Robert Pennaut, general manager of "France D'Abord," another left weekly.

Bertrand Jouenne, a designer in the drafting office of the nationalized French Aircraft construction works.

Charges against the members of the French Communist party central committee were presented to the ministry of justice by Minister of Defense Paul Ramadier.

They were based on the declaration by Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of the Communist party, that France should welcome an invading Soviet army in case of war.

Among the 11 men released was Paul Raskine, an employee of the Communist-controlled Paris Union of Syndicates.

The Union of Syndicates, meanwhile, called an extraordinary meeting of Communist unions for next Tuesday to decide what action to take in view of the government's campaign. It was believed possible the unions might vote a protest strike.

Ramadier's charges will be placed before an examining magistrate for investigation. The magistrate will ask for court action if he finds the charges well-founded. Ramadier demanded action against all members of the central committee, including those who are members of parliament. If the magistrate sends the case to the court, parliamentary immunity of central committee members who are he may ask parliament to lift the members of parliament.
